Security Dimensions is a range of managed services designed to provide organisations with a hassle-free and low entry cost solution to their security needs. A range of services are available, designed to precisely match your technical, performance and budgetary requirements; managed firewall services: e1^d, e2^d and e3^d and vulnerability scanning services: v1^d, v2^d and v3^d.

The e3^d Managed Security Service is designed for existing firewall installations where the security management and administration resources are not cost justifiable or freely available, e3^d offers the services shown on the left.

Benefits

Today, enterprises face an increasing need for security management throughout a geographically distributed organization. The enterprise network administrator often uses a device-by-device approach for configuring firewalls and VPN devices on their networks.

Scalability issues make this deployment approach time consuming and expensive. Additionally, the device-by-device approach leads to a higher incidence of improperly configured devices and inconsistent policy enforcement. e3^d provides centrally and consistently managed security policies throughout the enterprise.

- Managed remotely via secure VPN links by security experts
- No need to hire & train expensive additional staff with required Internet security skills
- Around-the-clock automatic monitoring to respond and notify of critical issues

- Peace of mind with expert security advice for all your business needs
- Packages available to suit all requirements

Security Dimensions is brought to you from Networks Unlimited who, since 1992, have provided thousands of organisations with specialist Internet Security, Network Management and Web Solutions.

With hundreds of firewall and VPN installations to our name and endorsed by some of the leading vendors in the industry, your future security is safe in our hands.
